Book Description

One day, Abbi receives a special invitation from the mayor of her hometown. But, there is just one catch--she has to wear her signature bandana, which is nowhere to be found. Abbi and her mom decide to gear up for a fun-filled adventure as they search America for her missing bandana. Travelling from east to west on their quest, they get to see the wonders of the U.S. and meet kind folks along the way. With the help of friends both old and new, will they find the bandana in time for Abbi's hometown parade?
